Our training will be tailored to your specific needs, whether you are an active debater or an economics buff. Comprised of the following sessions, the training day will be invaluable in preparing all students for the Viewpoint experience:

1. Your choice of:
   a. Principles of debating (designed primarily for students who do not have a background in debating)
   b. Introductory concepts on economics (designed primarily for debaters who have not studied economics subject)
2. Techniques in debating
3. Preparatory guides for economics debate, led by Monash’s most experienced debaters

This is a perfect preparation for the competition. We can teach students with no previous background in debating, to maximize the effectiveness of their arguments and present them in a persuasive manner. We will also teach active debaters who may not have a sound grasp of economics, the implications and relevance of the subject in an analytical framework necessary to raise a strong statement.

After the training day, students will be able to understand and argue about the economy and its significance to lives and society.

If your team makes it to the Grand Final, we will offer an intensive free training at your school by one of our experienced coaches!

When: 26 April (10:00am to 4:00pm)
Where: Monash University Clayton Campus, Building 12 (Law School)
Cost: Nothing (Can you afford not to come?)
For more information, please contact Gemma Buckley on 0438 968 613 or email monash.debaters.schools@gmail.com